

CONTENTS

Part Two

THE PHILOSOPHY OF THE RENAISSANCE

Chapter	Page
Thirteen: THE REVIVAL OF PLATONISM	11
The Italian Renaissance – The northern Renaissance – The revival of Platonism.
Fourteen: ARISTOTELIANISM	22
Critics of the Aristotelian logic – Aristotelianism – Stoicism and scepticism.
Fifteen: NICHOLAS OF CUSA	37
Life and works – The influence of Nicholas's leading idea on his practical activity – The coincidentia oppositorum – 'Instructed ignorance' – The relation of God to the world – The 'infinity' of the world – The world-system and the soul of the world – Man, the microcosm; Christ – Nicholas's philosophical affiliations.
Sixteen: PHILOSOPHY OF NATURE (1)	55
General remarks – Girolamo Cardano – Bernardino Telesio – Francesco Patrizzi – Tommaso Campanella – Giordano Bruno – Pierre Gassendi.
Sewenteen: PHILOSOPHY OF NATURE (2)	74
Agrippa von Nettesheim – Paracelsus – The two Van Helmonts – Sebastian Franck and Valentine Weigel – Jakob Böhme – General remarks.

Chapter

Page

- Eighteen: THE SCIENTIFIC MOVEMENT OF THE RENAISSANCE 85
 General remarks on the influence of science on philosophy—Renaissance science; the empirical basis of science, controlled experiment, hypothesis and astronomy, mathematics, the mechanistic view of the world—The influence of Renaissance science on philosophy.
- Nineteen: FRANCIS BACON 103
 English philosophy of the Renaissance—Bacon's life and writings—The classification of the sciences—Induction and 'the idols'.
- Twenty: POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY 123
 General remarks—Niccoló Machiavelli—St. Thomas More—Richard Hooker—Jean Bodin—Joannes Althusius—Hugo Grotius.

Part Three

SCHOLASTICISM OF THE RENAISSANCE

- Twenty-one: A GENERAL VIEW 153
 The revival of Scholasticism—Dominican writers before the Council of Trent; Cajetan—Later Dominican writers and Jesuit writers—The controversy between Dominicans and Jesuits about grace and free will—The substitution of 'philosophical courses' for commentaries on Aristotle—Political and legal theory.
- Twenty-two: FRANCIS SUÁREZ (1) 173
 Life and works—The structure and divisions of the Disputationes metaphysicae—Metaphysics as the science of being—The concept of being—The attributes of being—Individuation—Analogy—God's existence—The divine nature—Essence and existence—Substance and accident—Modes—Quantity—Relations—Entia rationis—General remarks—Étienne Gilson on Suárez.

Twenty-three:	FRANCIS SUÁREZ (2)	202
Philosophy of law and theology – The definition of law – Law ( lex ) and right ( ius ) – The necessity of law – The eternal law – The natural law – The precepts of the natural law – Ignorance of natural law – The immutability of the natural law – The law of nations – Political society, sovereignty and government – The contract theory in Suárez – The deposition of tyrants – Penal laws – Cessation of human laws – Custom – Church and State – War.
Twenty-four:	A BRIEF REVIEW OF THE FIRST THREE VOLUMES	229
Greek philosophy; the pre-Socratic cosmologies and the discovery of Nature, Plato's theory of Forms and idea of God, Aristotle and the explanation of change and movement, neo-Platonism and Christianity – The importance for mediaeval philosophy of the discovery of Aristotle – Philosophy and theology – The rise of science.

APPENDICES

One:	HONORIFIC TITLES APPLIED TO PHILOSOPHERS TREATED OF IN THIS VOLUME	251
Two:	A SHORT BIBLIOGRAPHY	252
	NOTES	267
	INDEX	279